

CRIPPEN IS FOUND GUILTY, BUT MAY ESCAPE GALLOWS

London Doctor is Sentenced to be Hanged November 15 for Murder of His American Wife.

PREJUDICE IS STRONG AGAINST SUCH EXECUTION

Believed That Jury Recommends Life Imprisonment Instead of Death—Prisoner Is Scared by the Presiding Justice, But Hears Words Sealing His Doom Without a Flinch—Ethel Leneve Case Comes Up Next.

(By Associated Press)
LONDON, Oct. 22.—Dr. Hawley Crippen, after a trial extending over five days, and thirty minutes' deliberation by the jury, was today found guilty of the murder of his wife, an American woman known on the stage as Belle Elmore. Lord Chief Justice Alverstone, who presided at the trial, sentenced Crippen to be hanged on November 15.

There is, however, the strongest prejudice in England against executing a man on purely circumstantial evidence, and an incident at the close of Crippen's trial has caused the impression that the jury may have recommended a life sentence. After Crippen was found guilty, the foreman of the jury handed to the lord chief justice a note, after looking at which, the justice said:

"That shall be forwarded to the proper quarter."

"The proper quarter" might mean the home secretary who has jurisdiction over such matters. The jurors refused to discuss the incident.

A large crowd awaited the departure of Crippen from New Bailey.

There were a few "boos" as he drove away to the Pentonville prison, but no other demonstration.

Jury Returns Verdict.
The jury was out just thirty minutes. When it returned and announced that it had found the defendant guilty, Lord Chief Justice Alverstone asked the physician if he had anything to say. Crippen replied in a low voice: "I still protest my innocence."

The chief justice then donned the black cap that has rested near him throughout the trial and pronounced the sentence of death.

Addressing the condemned man, Lord Alverstone said:

"You have been convicted on evidence which can leave no doubt in the minds of any reasonable man that you cruelly murdered your wife, and then mutilated her body."

"I advise you to entertain no hope that you will escape the consequences of your crime. I implore you to make your peace with Almighty God."

As the lord chief justice concluded, a policeman stepped forward and, in the hush that had fallen over the court room, led Crippen from the dock.

Ethel Leneve Case Tuesday.
The trial of Ethel Clara Leneve, as an accessory after the fact in the murder of Mrs. Crippen, will begin on Tuesday.

The trial lasted less than five days, having begun at 10:30 o'clock last Tuesday morning. The jury retired at 2:17 o'clock this afternoon and returned the verdict at 2:47 o'clock.

Crippen received the death sentence with the apparent calmness that characterized him throughout the trial.

He appeared rather nervous during the judge's summing up, which was strongly against him. As Lord Alverstone mercilessly portrayed his character, as developed during the trial, Crippen twisted his thumbs, crossed and recrossed his legs and occasionally shuffled his feet. However, as soon as the charge had been concluded, the prisoner seemed to pull himself together.

Crippen Doesn't Flinch.
When the verdict was announced Crippen did not flinch.

Richard Muir made the closing speech for the prosecution. He declared that the Crown had proved beyond a doubt that the body found in the cellar of the Crippen home was that of the doctor's wife. No one else, he said, had a chance to murder the woman and bury the body, as it was found to have been buried.

Lord Chief Justice Alverstone immediately began his summing up of the case.

Scored by Judge.
The justice described Crippen as an extraordinary man, whether guilty or innocent. If guilty he had covered up a ghastly crime in a ghastly way and it was believed in a most brutal and callous manner. If he was innocent it was impossible to fathom his mind, as he was absolutely indifferent to the charge of murder. He had taken no step whatever to prove his innocence. Crippen, the justice declared, undoubtedly was a liar and had lived an immoral life, but, he added, the jury could not convict the defendant on that score. It must be quite convinced that the human parts found were from the body of Belle Elmore and that her death was caused by a wilful act of the prisoner.

The lord chief justice charged the jury that they must be convinced of the identification beyond a reasonable doubt.

CAUSE STUDENT'S ARREST, THEN PLEAD FOR HIM

J. E. Parker, Charged With Theft, Is Released Through Efforts of College Classmates.

RICHMOND, Va., Oct. 22.—Filled with compassion for the plight in which they had placed a classmate, University College of Medicine students who caused the arrest of J. E. Parker today united in an appeal to the police for his release.

Parker was taken into custody by Detectives Wiley and Duffy and confessed to the officers that he had stolen a large number of expensive medical books in the last month. He admitted paying them and volunteered the information that the money had gone for a "good time."

A score of students filed into Justice Griggs' court this morning and declared they would contribute a purse to send Parker to his home in Whaleville, Va., providing prosecution would be dropped. Most of the books, which were pawned under the name of J. E. Oliver, have been recovered and restored to the owners.

On the condition that Parker effect an amicable settlement with his victims, Justice Griggs dismissed the complaint.

NEW HAVEN, CONN., Oct. 31.—

Matched against the Southern champions—Vanderbilt University—the Yale eleven this afternoon found work out for it to prevent being scored on. The game ended without a score by either team.

The visitors knew football and the eleven worked with machine precision and aggressively from the start.

Only frequent flashes of brilliancy by the Yale men, such as C. H.
Stout's run through a broken field, prevented them from crossing the Yale line. Yale's lack of dash in the first two periods made it appear that the line was being outplayed, but in the third period, with the ball in her possession, Vanderbilt's 345-yard dash, Yale rushed persistently and vigorously and was on Vanderbilt's sixty-yard line when the latter held for downs.

Three times during the game Yale had the ball on Vanderbilt's 10-yard line, only to be held for downs, and once, when Philbin fumbled, Vanderbilt got the ball in as close proximity to the Yale line.

The field was slippery and the ball heavy, as rain fell constantly.

BIG COUNTERFEITING SCHEME UNEARTHED

Three Hundred Thousand Dollars in Nicaraguan Notes Seized in Chicago.

PRINTING PLANT RAIDED; THREE MEN ARRESTED

Wealthy Mexican Planter Is Alleged to Have Come to the United States Representing Himself as Nicaraguan Agent in the Interest of That Government and Secured Cooperation.

(By Associated Press)
CHICAGO, Ill., Oct. 22.—Three hundred thousand dollars in counterfeit Nicaraguan 5-pesos notes, freshly printed, were seized and the printer who made them the engraver who made the plates and the man charged with securing their manufacture, were arrested here today by Captain Porter, of the United States secret service, and his operatives.

The notes had only been printed, not having the "official" seal impressed. There were 150,000 notes, each of 5 pesos, worth about $2 each American money, and signed by F.
Baca, advocate general; J. Madrid, El Presidente and F. Mayor Gaz.

They had not been cut from the large sheets.

Plates Taken from Press.
George B. Williams, president of the printing company, bearing the same, was charged with printing the spurious notes; H. N. Secret, of Tampico, Mexico, was accused of being the promoter, having the notes printed, and Richard J. Trumbull, manager of the Chicago Engraving Company, of Chicago, was charged with having made the copper plates from which the paper was printed. These plates were taken by the secret service men from the press where they were being used at the time of the raid. A taxicab ride, at high speed across the city, following a "tip" that a conference of the men engaged in the counterfeiting was being held, enabled Captain Porter and his men to reach the printing plant, a large one on the north side of the river, just as the conferees were hurrying away.
They made no resistance when arrested.

The story of the counterfeiting plan, as evolved by the secret service operatives from the men arrested and from the information which put them on the track of Secret, is as follows:

Story of the Scheme.
Secret, a planter of Tampico, Mexico, had been loaning money to Nicaraguan and was unable to get it back because of a shortage of current funds in the republic. Upon a public announcement that the government would duplicate for 1910 an issue of 5-pesos notes, similar to those of 1909, to relieve the financial stringency, the story goes, Secret, seeing a chance to profit illegally, came to the United States. It is alleged he went to a north central city first, but his alleged efforts to get the notes printed secretly were in vain. Then, it is charged, he came to Chicago. As a result of the canvass of Chicago, it is charged, the Williams Company, through its president, upon Secret's representation that he was an official from Nicaragua, and that he wanted the Chicago printer to turn out the official money for the republic, agreed to print the paper. On the same representation, according to Trumbull's story, the Guarantee Engraving Company agreed to furnish the plates.

Penalty Prescribed.
United States laws provide equal punishment for counterfeiting of American and foreign coin or paper money or the offense of having in possession the means of coin counterfeiting or the spurious article. The penalty is not to exceed five years' imprisonment or fine of $5,000, or both.

United States Commissioner Foote continued the cases against the three until next Wednesday. Secret's bonds were fixed at $10,000; Williams' at $5,000 and Trumbull's at $5,000. Williams and Trumbull furnished bonds before evening. Williams said he had no idea he was doing illegal things; that there was no attempt at concealment on his part and that Secret had told him the printing was for the Nicaraguan government. Trumbull also protested that he was innocent of any wrong.

CAROLINA BUSINESS MAN LOCKED UP AT RICHMOND

President of Greensboro Co-operative Buggy and Harness Co. Charged With Passing Worthless Check.

RICHMOND, Va., Oct. 22.—Declaring that he had been ruined by a business associate and that he was a victim of circumstances over which he had no control, R. G. Norman, president of the Co-operative Buggy and Harness Company, of Greensboro, N. C., created a scene in police court today when Justice Griggs remanded him to jail to await examination on the charge of passing a worthless check on the Gilbert hotel.

Norman pulled away from Policeman Ogilvie, who was escorting him to the bullpen, and facing the judge, declared:

"I do not understand these proceedings. I cannot see why you are holding me. I demand to know what sum I may be bailed under."

"I regret," said Justice Griggs, "that the nature of this charge is not perfectly clear to you. As you have already stated that you cannot furnish bail I did not think it worth while to fix upon a sum. A bond of $300 will be required in your case."

It appears that you have defrauded a citizen of Richmond and I am going to give the police ten days in which to investigate your case."

Still protesting that he was being dealt with unfairly, Norman unwill-ingly accompanied the officer to the cage in the rear of the court room.

Norman was arrested in Lynchburg yesterday afternoon by Detective F. C.
Bailey on a warrant charging him with giving a worthless check in payment of a $34.50 bill at the Gilbert.

In a lengthy statement to Justice Griggs Norman pleaded that he had drawn the check in good faith. His partner in the buggy business, he said, was Robert C. Young, the son of John D. Young, a wealthy resident of Greensboro.

"During my absence from the home office," said the prisoner, "the funds of the company were withdrawn from the bank on which I drew the check.
This was done without my knowledge, and when I sought to enlighten our matters I met with no success. What money I invested in the business is lost, and I am virtually penniless."

for congress in this district, to meet Mr. Rumble, the Republican candi-

"Less than twenty days remain before the election, and if anything along this line is to be accomplished, arrangements should be made as speedily as possible."

"If the proposition is one that commends itself to you, I shall be glad to meet you either in Norfolk, Portsmouth or Smithfield at your convenience."

Replying to the Republican challenge, Mr. Holland said today that so far as he was concerned there would be no joint discussion between himself and Republican nominee Rumble.

POSTAL BANKS LOCATED

Postoffice in Each State Selected by Trustees.

ONE AT CLIFTON FORGE, VA.

Appropriation for Equipment Is Small and Larger Cities are Avoided for Try-out of the System of the New Created Institutions.

(By Associated Press)
WASHINGTON, D. C., Oct. 22.—The board of trustees of the postal savings bank system, today approved a list of 48 second class postoffices, at which the plan will be given its first trial.
The list includes one office for each state and territory.

The trustees are Postmaster General Hitchcock, Secretary of the Treasury MacVagh and Attorney General Wickersham. They met in the office of the postmaster general late this afternoon. The list they formally approved was selected after careful investigation by the postal officials, with a view to making the first test of the service as thorough as possible under the limited appropriation of $100,000 provided by congress, which includes all the expenses of equipment, including the engraving and printing of forms, certificates, bonds, etc., clerical assistance, etc.

Owing to the smallness of this appropriation it has been impossible to establish postal savings banks during the first year in the large city postoffices of the country. Communities were chosen in which the conditions were exceptionally favorable for the development of a postal savings business, mostly industrial centers, where wage earners will be especially benefited by the kind of banking facilities afforded.

Among the offices designated today are: Bessemer, Ala.; Stuttgart, Ark.; Key West, Fla.; Brunswick, Ga.; Gulfport, Miss.; Middletown, Ky.; New Iberia, La.; Salisbury, N. C.; Guyman, Okla.; Newberry, S. C.; Johnson City, Tenn.; Port Arthur, Texas; Clifton Forge, Va. and Grafton, W. Va.

WOULD ROB PEOPLE OF THEIR LIBERTY

Former Senator Foraker Points Out Dangers of Policies Proclaimed by Roosevelt.

MEANS WORSE THAN ANY MONARCHY IN EUROPE

"New Nationalism" Is Severely Eccided by the Ex-Lawmaker and He Pictures the Bad Effects of Such Doctrine to the Country in Ohio Campaign Speech.

(By Associated Press)
MARYSVILLE, OHIO, Oct. 22.—Former Senator Joseph B. Foraker signified his return into active politics today by going after Colonel Roosevelt and his "new nationalism," rough shod, Foraker "stood pat" on the tariff, deplored the activities of the insurgents; urged Senator Dick's re-election and endorsed Warren G.
Harding for governor, and the entire Republican state ticket. He spoke kindly of President Taft's administration and said Republican victory in Ohio means a great deal to the President.

Referring to Colonel Roosevelt's "new nationalism," former Senator Foraker said:

"We have lately had a new doctrine of political principles. They are politically baptized as the doctrine of a 'new nationalism.' They are set forth in the nature of a platform for a new party. Possibly they are intended for that use only in the event that the distinguished author be not nominated for the presidency by either of the old parties."

"However that may be, it is well to note that they violate our old form of government by arrogating to the national government the control of matters so purely local that they clearly belong to the jurisdiction of the states."

"Aside from other objections, this new doctrine is as certainly destructive of our institutions as any involved in the name of the Southern Confederacy."

"Dangerous to Liberty."
"Such a preachment is not nationalism, and although new or old, but imperialism, pure and simple. The power it would give to the President of the United States would be far more dangerous to the liberties of this people than are those of any monarchy in Europe."

A. C. EBY ARRIVES IN RICHMOND FOR TRIAL

Former Mayor of Burkeville Leaves Atlanta Prison to Face More Accusations.

RICHMOND, Va., Oct. 22.—Abram C.
Eby, alias Adam Smith, arrived in Richmond this morning from the federal prison at Atlanta, in charge of federal deputies under Deputy Marshal M. W. Scott of Atlanta.

Upon reaching Richmond the prisoner was turned over to J. Flave Marchant, deputy marshal, who delivered the prisoner to the Henrico county jail, where he is now held.

Eby is a man past middle age. His nervous system is entirely shattered and his mind is thought to be seriously impaired. He will make his appearance before a United States commissioner here next Monday morning to answer charges of having employed the mails to send threatening messages with an attempt to intimidate and extort money from certain intended victims.

The late firm of O'Flaherty & Pul-ton has been retained by friends of the accused as additional counsel for the defense and it is thought a bitter fight will be waged against a second conviction of the accused, who has just finished a term at Atlanta for a conviction in Philadelphia.

Eby was practicing law in Richmond twenty years ago with offices in the Shafter building. Since that time he has been mayor of Burkeville, Va.
It will probably be a part of his defense to have a commission of lunacy sit on his case. The prisoner declines to talk.
